

PRES BUZZ (new name for presidents message)
November 2016

Dear PSA Members,
Please mark your calendar with these upcoming events:

Nov 12th - SALON #6 at Alice Dworkin's home in Glendale, email to follow in a week.

Nov 17th - WHAT SELLS – Evening Workshop by Stephen Wagner, email to follow. For now, visit www.startistnetwork.org for more info.

Nov 19th -New Member Screening
–Refer artists to our website /Join PSA.

I am looking forward to our Nov. 5th meeting to discuss PSA exhibition goals and community networking. Bring your ideas and something new from your studio. I have become acquainted with fine visual artists who are showing in Altadena at the ALKEBU-LAN Cultural Center. We have a chance to collaborate here for a salon or other event.

Upcoming Exhibitions:

The 2017 exhibition schedule will include 5 - 7 exhibitions. Currently on the schedule is the New Members Exhibition, Class of 2016 at Towns Burr Gallery in Burbank January 14 to February 4, 2017 and the 92nd Annual Juried Exhibition in April 2017 at White's Fine Art Gallery in Montrose. The rest of the schedule will be presented to the Board of Directors at the November meeting for their review and approval.

PSA did participate in ArtNight Friday, October 21. Three PSA members presented their artwork. Barbara Thorn-Otto offered her series of note cards and a selection of giclee prints for sale. She sold some of the note cards. Robert Crook brought some of his fabulous facejugs and a new sculpture. They generated a lot of looks. Steve Graziani presented his latest sci-fi novel and a bin full of giclees of his paintings. There were many visitors. It was an enjoyable evening for all.

The Exhibition Committee wants to thank every member that volunteered to help with all of the exhibition related activities. We hope you had as much fun as we did. We want to encourage all active members to consider volunteering for duty with the Exhibition Committee in 2017. Get an inside look at how these events go together. Thanks again for all of your hard work, we couldn't do it without you!

Update:

PASADENA ARTWALK, October 22

The Art Walk went very smoothly because of the help and cooperation from all the participants. Chris Mathis delivered the lattice, and Steve Smith, Kathryn Hansen and Danny Mattijetz installed the exhibit. Kathryn laid out a finely crafted piece of an owl's head to work on. I could see every feather! Danny started winding wire together to make the armature for a sculpture. I got out a small hand plane and created a bed of chips from a roughed out stool seat, as well as a cloud of dust from sanding it. Many people visited, and we had numerous inquiries about joining PSA.

Many visitors enjoyed sitting on my stools. There were no sales, and the day went by quickly because the company and the conversation were good. It was good working as a team, and I enjoyed this. It was good exposure for PSA.

Michael Childs, 2016 Artwalk Coordinator

"FUNHOUSE", October 22 and 23, 2016

The Pasadena Society of Artists and the Tierra Del Sol Foundation participated in a combined art exhibition, "FUNHOUSE", at the Lamperouge Gallery during the Brewery open house Artwalk. There were 41 new and original pieces of artwork presented by 23 artists as selected by juror, Jeanie Frias.

Media presented included colored pencil on paper, Rapidograph pen and ink on paper, acrylic on canvas, watercolor on paper, oil on canvas, assemblage, etching, stone sculpture, collage, digital photography, woodcut print, mixed media, ceramics, fused glass, and carved wood.

Ongoing Exhibition:

Eve Kessler in a On Woman Exhibition at STARR HOUSE November 1st through January 1 2017. Eve Kessler is a local Altadena artist who loves to paint animals. She calls her painting style pencil sketch/watercolor and strives to keep the look loose and fresh. The work in this exhibit focuses on the healing bond that happens when women and horses connect.

The Salon is located at 2636 Mission Street in San Marino, 91108.

Visit STARRHOUSE.com or the PSA website for additional information. STARR HOUSE is presenting this exhibition in support of the PSA scholarship fund. A new exhibition featuring PSA artists will be presented every 60 days. Curator / Exhibition Chair: Gina M.
